Just now he is engaged in superintending the laying of a 30-mile gas main to Van Wert, O. His luck from the time of the first "strike" in oil has fluctuated, ebbing and flowing with the wells; but he has "come out on top," and has been for some time a thorn in the side of the Standard Oil Company. At last he was brought into the fold, partially at least, being given shares in the company as a truce on one of his ventures to keeping him from being too active in gobbling up valuable interests in the Standard's line. THE HIGHEST COURT

In America Will, if Mr. McKee is Forced, be Appealed To.

THE OWNER OF JEANNETTE

Says His Little City Will- Not Lose Those 45 Glassblowers.

HE PROMISES TO GO THEIR BAIL.

To See if They Have the Same Rights as Musicians and Actors.

A VERY IMPORTANT PHASE OF IT ALL

Chambers & McKee, the window glass manufacturers at Jeannette, in whose employ the 45 imported Englishmen and Belgians are working, intend to make a test case of the contract labor law, in the event of an attempt being made to send the men back to England. If any legal steps are taken by Secretary Windom the firm will give bond and fight the matter in the courts. It necessary, they say, they will carry it to the United States Supreme Court and let that body decide whether the men will have to go back or not. It has also been ascertained that the officers of the Window Glass Workers' Association have decided to distribute the 45 Englishmen among Western factories and fill their places at Jeannette with Pittsburg and Western men until the matter blows over. This information was obtained from a gentleman who knows what is going on in the association.

H. Sellers McK ee, of the firm, returned from Lakewood yesterday, and was en-countered on Smithfield street, looking after matters pertaining to the Birmingham Traction Company. THE DISPATCH reporter asked him

WHAT HE INTENDED TO DO about the recommendation of United States District Attorney Lyon and Immigrant Inspector Layton, to send the men back to Englaud. Mr. McKee at first refused to say anything, on the ground that it would appear as if he wanted to fight the United States officers. He parried the query, and wanted to talk about the new cable road, which will be one of the best in the country. After much questioning he consented to talk, and said:

"I do not think we are going to lose the men. I have read all the news in THE DISPATCH from time to time; but what does it signify? I have seen it stated that the men must go back. Who cares for that? We certainly do not. We don't care for the statements of the positive proof that the men were imported here under contract. I do not say that they were; but suppose such is the case. Are not all the musicians and operatic singers brought into this country from Europe imported? Isn't this labor? and isn't it contracted for across the water? If managers have a right to make contracts in Europe with high salaried labor, why should we not have the same right to make an agreement with low salaried, or common labor. There is no difference.

"We have been charged with making contracts with the men in Europe to come here and work for us. Why, we did not have them two weeks until we discharged three of them for drunkenness. Now if we had a contract to give these people employ-ment, we couldn't discharge them, could we? There has been so much said about them that we did not think it worth while to reply to the attacks.

RESISTANCE IS ASSURED. "If any attempt is made to take our employes away from us and send them back to England, we will resist it. As soon as any steps are taken, we will give bail for the men, and make an appeal. If necessary, we will carry it to the Supreme Court and test the matter. We have no desire to a tagonize anybody, or resist the laws; but we will protect our men from outside inter-

"What have you to say in regard to the charge that part of the wages of the men were kept each week to pay their board, passage money and railroad transportation to Jeannette?

"Well, suppose we did retain a small part of the men's wages each week? Suppose we wanted to advance money to men to come here to work for us? Isn't that our business, and is there anything wrong about it? I think not. After the men came here is it not right that they should pay back the money we advanced them? Such a transac-. tion is legal, I think. The men will resume working in a few weeks, and if any attempt is made to molest them we will interter The Supreme Court will knock this whole matter high in the air, if it is brought be-

The gentleman who furnished the information about sending the men West, gave some inside information. He said: "The reason the Englishmen were sent to Jean-nette instead of to some different factory, is explained in the antipathy of American workmen to the tank furnaces. In the first place, they were prejudiced against the tanks, thinking that this system would work injury to the trade. Mesars. Chambers & McKee knew this, and, thinking that the men would not give the tanks a fair trial, concluded that they had

BETTER HAVE ENGLISHMEN, who had some experience working them, and who would not try to bring out poor re-sults. As a consequence the Englishmen were sent there, and the tanks have been a

"When the men were hired they were guaranteed so much wages on the test. The gatherers were to be paid $78 per month for single-strength glass, and the blowers $120 per month. The double-strength blower was to average about $140 per month, while the gatherer would get $90. They were to be paid these wages, even if they did not make more than one box per day. On these conditions they had no trouble securing the

"There is indeed a scheme on foot to send these men to other points, and allow other workmen to take their places. They will be given working cards, and will probably find employment in the West. They can go out there, and even if the authorities have their names, they will be lost to the world, and in a short time the whole matter will blow over. Then the men can return to Jean-nette, if they prefer to work in the tank factory. There is a tank furnace house at Streator, Ill., and it is probable that some of them will head for there."

A special telegram from Washington last night said the papers in the case, recom-mending that the men be sent back to En-gland, are now in the hands of Secretary Windom, who will act in the matter in a few days. The special states that it is probable warrants will be issued by the Government and the men arrested. They will then be shipped back to England via Boston, aboard the same ships they came

Treasurer Thompson Tells of Coming Dis-

Treasurer Thompson Tells of Coming Disbursements by Check,

TO AVOID HANDLING SUCH VAST SUMS

Treasurer W. R. Thompson, of the Pittsburg Relief Commission, returned from Johnstown yesterday, after seeing his force well at work upon the last week of claimpaying out of the $500,000 fund. The force of clerks began work at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and continued until 6 P. M., adding two hours' work per diem. This move has been made in harmony with the policy of "bustle" which now imbues the whole commission.

Mr. Thompson said, in regard to the progress of the work: "We are rushing payments on the $500,000 basis, and will wind up this week. Meanwhile we are perfecting arrangements for the next payment of money. Outside of losses we know of, and which are not yet reported, and for which a small contingent fund will be held by the commission, it is the intention to make the pax payment practically final. We will intended to have a payment practically final. We will intended to have a payment practically final. We will intended to have a payment practically final. Absolutely no ill results have followed the injections.

Two different old men, who were each given an injection nine days ago, are still feeling, so they say, ten years younger than before the use of the preparation. One old man, who was temperarily much improved, by a single injection not repeated, has relapsed to nearly, though not quite, the condition he was in prior to the use of the "clixir." This was probably due to the fact that he over-exerted himself; he fest so young that he worked too hard.

One woman on whom I used the preparation said she felt no effects whatever from it.

The negro first injected has been heard from, and still thinks he is 20 years younger than he was. How much the effects of the so-called "clixir" are due to the imjected preparation, and how much to the imagination of the recipient of the injection, I am not prepared to state; the mind exerts so much influence in such cases. The preparation is, so far as I can judge, not properly called the "Elixir of Life." I still see no reason to believe that it is anything more than a relatively permanent stimulant to jaded tissues and I have still no evidence that it will prolong life one hour.

THE TROUBLE AND RISK of carrying a large amount of actual money into Johnstown, and also the trouble, time and expense involved in the present method of payment. We propose to lodge the en-tire sum to be distributed in the First National Bank of Johnstown, and then pay it out from the bank upon checks issued to the individuals. We have all the names and addresses of those who will be entitled to noney on the final distribution, and by nailing their checks to them, the clerical labor now necessitated will be obviated, and Johnstown could be given $1,000,000 or any other sum, juside of 24 hours. It is now impossible to say just how large the available fund will be. It will be a large sum,

"The only present obstacle to this plan is the slender clerical force of the bank itself purchased by the company some time ago, between Bennett station and Woodville, were at present. But we could assign any num-ber of cierks to the bank, and thus obviate that difficulty.

only the first step toward these improvements. The yards at Pittaburg, New Castle Junction and Youngston Lane have already been enlarged at a cost of $117,000.

Mr. Campbell, Treasurer of the Pittaburg and Western, is its only officer in the city at present, Harry Oliver having left for Europe last week. When a reporter called upon Mr. Campbell yesterday afternoon, that gentleman said.

I know the company has for some time been considering the laying of a double track to accommodate the enormous traffic. I have just received the accounts for the month of June, which show a net increase of over $22,000 over those for the same month last year. July, I believe, presents even a larger increase. "We have had every courtesy from the bank. Their own business, however, demands very hard work. When the water subsided the interior of the bank safe was a mass of pulp, and there has been an oilstove burning on the safe floor for weeks gradually drying out the contents. The books and accounts have to be taken out piecemen and embodied in new books. It is a hard and troublesome job; but they are getting things into shape rapidly. I believe there will be no trouble in inducing the bank to AS TO CHECK DISTRIBUTION.

"The manner in which our distribution has been made renders a check distribution has been made renders a check distribution possible. We have fad to search the claims very minutely. All who get money are watched very closely, and each individual's record is on file in our office. We have thus noted the payments made on the pending distribution, and they will not get away with us on the final payment. There is a tendency upon the part of many to overreach us, if possible. To illustrate, I can cite one case: A man came into our office last Saturday and presented his claim. His record showed that on July 12 he made an affidavit that his loss was $291, and that he had 5 children. On these children and himself had 5 children. On these children and himself he got $60 'head money' from the local committee On Saturday he smore to a tota loss of $475, and to the possession of three children. We simply confronted him with the record, and he collapsed, very much discomfited. He was armed with an order from the local committee, but we cannot blame them, for they are compelled to still the local clamor by giving people the benefit of the doubt. This just shows the existence of a hatural inclination to take advantage of a combination of circumstances. We would not know where we stand if we did not apply a searching inquiry to all

MUST PROTECT BOTH the fund and those who are entitled to it, the fund and those who are entitled to it, and the percentage of overreaching would seriously affect the gross fund if it was not kept down. But the care taken in the present distribution enables us to know just what should be paid on the roundup, and insures an equitable adjustment. As a matter of fact, almost every allotment made by the local committee has been scaled down on the admirision of the applicants. down on the admissions of the applicants for relief themselves. Our list of questions

After leaving his friends he fell in with another friend, who was going to take a midnight train, and invited the Captain te go along with him. Captain Awl was not expected home for several days, and thought he would go along. He did so and went to a small country place to rest, where he did not have a chance to see the Pittsburg papers.

The Lake Erie Railroad officials had no doubt of his integrity and knew he would turn up all right. The sensational reports about being short in his accounts they dis-credited, and said the books were all right. His friends about town, last evening, were relieved when they learned of the fact that

"Governor Beaver is thoroughly in accord with the policy of pushing things, and emphatically expressed himself to that effect at the meeting on last Wednesday. I think I can say, without drawing any invidious comparisons, that the Pittsburg members of the commission have steadily urged that the proper persons to handle the relief funds were the sufferers themselves, and it afforded us pleasure to find the Governor outspoken in behalf of the same view."

"Yes. One of the commission asked Governor Beaver about the $150,000 fund in the hands of Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston, said to be awaiting a draft from some one. Governor Beaver said he had no official intimation of the existence of such a fund, and asked if the Pittsburg members of the Pittsburg Relief Committee had been officially notified by Boston authorities. As they had not, the matter rests; but I believe that Secretary Kremer is to write to Boston for information. The whole affair is considered rather singular. It was the generally expressed opinion that if there is such a fund at Boston it should be forwarded without any red-tape or delay."

Yesterday was the first day since the flood upon which no contributions were received by the Pittsburg Relief Committee. The members believe, however, that the stream of contributions is not yet over, although temporarily checked. An effort will be made to wind up the Pittsburg Relief Committee work sometime this week. While disbursements have to be made, it is not deemed worth while to attempt a detailed statement of the work of the committee. It is proposed to ask the States of Illinois and Michigan to appoint each an auditor, a third party to to ask the States of Illinois and Michigan to appoint each an auditor, a third party to be drawn from the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce; these three to audit the accounts of the local committee. Reached here safely. Trial may come off next week. Have you sent money to me and Mr. Bennett? If so, how much?

JOHN W. ECHOLS.

It was stated that some money had been sent, and it was decided to send $50 more. A campmeeting collection of $19 50 was reported. There was a heated discussion about money matters, the president claiming that he did not sign any checks on the fund in bank. Both the president and treasurer threatened to resign: but they treasurer threatened to resign; but the didn't do so, and the meeting was adjourned after deciding to hold the Lafayette Hall

12,000 OUT OF 14,008 OVENS IDLE. Special Agent Schwartz, of the Building Trades' League, yesterday again ordered out the men now working on the new Weldin building at the corner of Wood street and Diamond alley. The trouble is the outgrowth of the row between L. A. 491, Knights of Labor Slate Roofers, and the Slate Roofers' Union. There are members of both organizations at work upon the building. The members of the Slate Roofers' Union, who are in the Federation of Labor, refused to recognize or work with the others. The latter have worked, notwithstanding the efforts made to have them discharged, the contractor having refused to Master Workman Rae Quite Confident of

THE LABORERS IN ENTIRE HARMONY

From a Scottdale point of view there has been no doubt expressed at any time that the coke workers' strike would end in a victory for labor. But, even under a Scottdale date the appended telegram, which came last night, is indicative of a more serious and general strike than has heretofore been leemed possible under existing circum

The strike in the Connellsville coke region has assumed immense proportions. Of the 14,008 ovens in the region not less than 12,000 are now idle, and the managers of the strike assert that over 1,000 of the remaining ovens assert that over 1,000 of the remaining ovens will be shut down to-morrow. The National Progressive Miners' Association and the Knights of Labor are working together in perfect harmony for the first time in years. At a meeting at the Standard works yesterday the men, who are nearly all National Progressive miners, unanimously sassed a resolution ignoring the Frick scale and agreement of last February. The latest works out are Leisenring No's. 2 and 3, Jimtown, Calumet, Sterling, Emma, Warden, Ponnsville and Moyer. GIVING THE PROPORTION.

From the latest reports received here it is almost certain that not more than eight or ten works out of the 76 in the region will be working to-morrow. These, with the exception of the Mammoth, are all small works, and will not represent over 1,200 or 1,400 men.

Master Workman John B. Rae, of National Trades Assembly, 135, K. of L., states that cearly all the important works in the region nearly all the important works in the region are now out, and that the smaller ones are sure —J. B. Bradley, of Bolivar, N. Y., President of the Empire Gas Company, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon as the guest of H. A. Fisher, manager of the American Press Association for this district. Mr.

are now out, and that the smaller ones are sure to follow in a short time. He is very well satisfied with the manner in which the strike has been conducted by the local leaders, and with the assistance rendered by the rank and file. The report that the men at the Youngstown works had returned to work is denied by the strikers. They claim that an offer of 10 per cent advance in wages was made to the men, but that they had not yet accepted it, and that it was very probable they would not do so until the settlement of the strike in the entire region. The men in this part of the region are quiet and peaceable, and believe they will win the strike.

GETTING RAW RECRUITS. The strikers from Donnelly and Stoneyville went to Morewood this morning at daybreak and held a meeting in front of the company's store at that place. They succeeded in inducing the men to quit work, but it is reported that as soon as the visitors left the place some of the men went back to work. Arrangements are being made for an immense mass meeting to be held at this place on Wednesday. Delegations from all parts of the region are expected to be present, and the meeting will be addressed by National Master Workman Rae and several other prominent labor leaders. Word has just been brought here by a striker from Calumet works to the effect that there is not a man at work there to-day. He also said that the diggers went in at Mammoth this morning, but that the drivers refused to go to work. that as soon as the visitors left the place some A RIOT ON PAPER ONLY.

The report published in a Pittsburg after morning is untrue in every particular. The strikers from the Donnelly and Stoneville works did not go to the Alice, but to Moreout since Saturday. There has as yet been no necessity for calling on the Sheriff of West-moreland or Fayette counties, and the leaders moreland or Fayette counties, and the leaders of the strike state positively that there will not be, as the strikers will not use violence or force to compel men to quit work. The report that the Jintown works were out is denied by the company, but strikers from that vicinity state that the works are idle. A report has just reached here that the Redstone came out this afternoon, but nothing authoritative can be learned.

W. J. Rainey, who operates Moyer works, it is reported, has granted the advance to the men at his plant, and that his works will start to-morrow. The advance, however, is on conditions that his employes come back to the old prices in case the other operators do not agree to the strikers' terms. The latest reports received at the Knights of Labor head-quarters here indicate that there will not be more than six or eight plants in operation in the morning.

TROUBLE AT HAND.

Armed Hungarians Moving to Force the Workmen at Jimtown Out-Bloodshed Already Reported.

The following special telegram from Con-nellsville last night appears to be very significant.

It was reported here to-night that a party of Hungarians armed with clubs and stones had been seen going over the hills from the Morgan and White mines to force the men at Jimtown to come out. Another rumor said that there had been bloodshed there; but it is impossible to verify either, as Jimtown has no telegraph or telephone connection. The combined forces are now centered on the Schoonmaker works, and every effort will be made to bring them out.

and every effort will be made to bring them out.

In the immediate vicinity no change has been reported in the situation, except the addition of the Grace Works of W. J. Rainey to the list of idle plants. A delegation of men from Uniondale visited Youngstown to-night to endeavor to induce the men there to cease work in the morning.

The latest feature in the coke situation in Scottdale is the report that the strike will end successfully as far as the McClure and the J. M. Schoonmaker Companies are concerned. Telephone messages have been sent to all the works operated by these companies, offering the men an advance of six and one-fourth per cent. They will try to force the price of coke to a point that will justify them in paying the advance.

As far as can be learned meetings are being held at the works, and the probabilities are that a number of them will be running in the morning. Just what action will be taken by the H. C. Frick Company could not be ascer-

The firm have refused to sign the scale as adopted, on have refused to sign the scale as adopted, on the basis of $5.50 per ton for puddling fron, and want the same concessions as were given to Carneige, Phipps & Co. at Homestead. They desire a sliding scale to run for three years and also want lower prices in the nail mill. They claim they will start up the latter if they secure a material reduction. If not they will allow the 49 machines to stand idle another year. It is probable that the scale will be signed without any trouble.

DELEGATES WHO WILL GO FROM HERE

The St. Charles Hotel has probably never before held within its walls a more intellectual and sociable body of gentlemen and ladies than those who arrived there last evening and will depart this afternoon. They represent the Catholic Total Abstinence Societies of the East, and are on their way to the niceteenth annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, to be held in Cleveland beginning to-morrow morning.

State because it is hard to get financial support. In some unexplainable manner these two errors crept into The Dispartch's article about Mercy Hospital Sunday morning.

In 1883 the Government asked the Mercy Hospital as U. S. Marine Hospital could be erected. The Sisters said they could not make a contract at the price they offered. This is probably the way the story about them refusing national aid originated. However, a few months later the Government decided not to build a marine hospital for the reception of marine patients. A substantial figure was proposed to Mercy. It was accepted and ever since then the morthly bills tendered the Government are paid. They range from $300 to $1,000 per month. The latter was the largest sum ever paid. Of course this is not all profit by any means, and the worthy institution can ready find room for all other contributions.
